The College of Engineering community is invited to join Dean Justin Schwartz and Associate Dean Tonya Peeples in a virtual listening circle to discuss recent campus events, such as an externally sponsored visitor who spoke against our institutional values. The college strongly supports all students and does not stand for discrimination of any kind. This listening circle is an opportunity for community members to debrief and work with leadership to identify ways to strengthen the college’s support. Registration is required.

Questions? Please email Erin Hostetler, director of student research and graduate equity, at cem183@psu.edu.