Multicultural Engineering Program Orientation

Get a head start on your first year at Penn State!

MEPO is a three-day orientation program that runs from August 19 through August 21, 2020. During this time, not only will you meet your fellow first-year engineering students, you will also have the opportunity to learn the ins and outs of Penn State’s College of Engineering and all of the student resources at University Park.

BY PARTICIPATING IN MEPO, YOU WILL REAP THE FOLLOWING BENEFITS:

• Move into your dorm room early*
• Participate in an engineering design competition to get first-hand project experience
• Pair with an upper level student mentor for your first year of college
• Learn about and become familiar with academic and social resources on campus

* University Park students only

• Meet other incoming first-year students in your field who will be taking the same classes
• Gain a competitive edge for the fall career fair by building your resume early
• Start your first year with 0.5 credits*
• Network with top industry company recruiters at our networking luncheon

The MEPO Experience

 “MEPO is the best way to be part of a family on campus.”
— Waldo K. Martinez, First Year in Mechanical Engineering, 2018 Mentee

 “MEPO is more than an orientation to Penn State; it’s an orientation to a community of the best people on campus.”
— J. Griffin Noel Bartholomew Gonzalez, First Year in Civil Engineering, 2018 Mentee

 “MEPO is an introduction to the engineering family that you’ll have during college. It’s a life-changing experience that will leave a lasting memory for years to come.”
— Justin Sinclair, Senior in Electrical Engineering, 2018 Mentor
